NOTES AND PRECIS.

3 As verbally directed the following note is submitted:-

The present difficulty will be avoided if the promissory notes in question can be transferred in the name of the -- Mother Provincial of the Good Shepherd Convent instead of in the personal name of the holder of the post. Under para -- 45(2) of the Govt. Securities Manual it appears to be -- possible to transfer the notes in the name of the Mother -- Provincial. A promissory note need not be in the personal name of any individual; one may be held & negotiated by a body corporate. Clause (3) of that pragraph refers to --- individual office holders as opposed to bodies corporate & it does not seem applicable to this case. If approved this may be sent to the Treasury Officer U.C. for favour of -- remarks as to whether there is any objection to follow the above course and if not whether the draft may be amplified as follows :-

Wife

Dear Mrs. Plowden :—

I am writing to ask you, as a special favour, if you could take us a little matter for us with Mr. Plowden. It is this ——

The Residency Treasurer is causing us quite a little embarrassment by requiring us to have the Promissory Notes, or at least the interest receipt for them signed by the former Mother Provincial and Mother Assistant. Both these persons have been transferred and no longer have any thing to do with the Missions of this Convent. Their signatures mean nothing in connection with any documents belonging to the Convent here, for they are no longer in office.

When these Notes were obtained, they became the property of the Convent, — they could never be the personal property of any Provincial, for all Provincials are only representatives, and can hold no personal property.

As the Bank recognises each new Mother Provincial and new Mother or Sister Assistant, and settles the payment—of all sums accordingly. I do not see why this matter cannot be adjusted likewise. They only require the countersignature of the Bishop to the letter which authorizes the new Trustees to act in this connection.

You will understand that we could not send Bonds all over the world, wherever the former Trustees may be, in order to get their signatures, nor is it really necessary considering that the Bonds are not their personal holding — they were only acting in the name of the Convent, and it is a pity that the wording was not in accordance with that fact!

We would be so grateful if Mrs. Plowden could help us in this and make the point clear — we have not succeeded in doing so, though we went personally

Thanking you for whatever you may be able to do in this regard,

I remain, dear Mrs. Plowden
Yours sincerely
Mother M. of the Annunciation
Mother Provincial

Sir,

Madam,

With reference to our conversation on the 3rd May 1937, I have the honour to inform you that on a scrutiny of the endorsements on the Government - - Promissory notes for Rs 8,600/-, I find that the notes stand in the personal names of Mother M.St. Ignatius and Sister Mary St. Evarista and hence the interest receipt has to be signed by them unless the bonds are re-endorsed by them in your favour.

I have the honour to be,

Madam,

Your most obedient servant,

TREASURY OFFICER,
BANGALORE.

With reference to your endorsement No.F.786-37/R.O.I, dated 28th May 1937, forwarding letter dated 7th May 1937 from the Mother Provincial, Convent of the Good Shepherd, for my remarks, I have the honour to state that it seemed clear to the Mother Provincial that the bill for drawing interest on the Government Promissory Notes in question could not properly be signed by her. That, obviously, explains why she saw me instead of signing and presenting the bill for payment through the Bangalore Bank who hold the bonds in deposit. But she saw me without the bonds and I was not in a position to give her definite advice - without examining the endorsements on them. I therefore informed her that I would obtain the bonds from the Bank, examine the endorsements, and then write to her.

Copies of my letters to the Bangalore Bank and to the Mother Provincial are enclosed.

The relevant rule will be found at para 43-II, first two sub-paragraphs on page 42 of the Government Securities Manual.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

TREASURY OFFICER,

To

Mother Mary of the Annunciation,
Mother Provincial, Convent of the Good Shepherd, B a n g a l o r e.

Dated Bangalore, 6th July 193 7.

Dear Madam,

With reference to your letter dated the 7th May 1937 to Mrs. Plowden, I am directed to enclose a copy of Rule 43-II of the Government Securities Manual. From this it will be seen that as the promissory notes in question stand in the personal names of Mother M.St. Ignatius and Sister Mary St. Evarista the interest receipt has to be signed by them unless the bonds are re-endorsed by them in your favour. It will save much trouble if these notes are transferred in the name of the Mother Provincial of the Good Shephered Convent instead of in the personal name of the holder of the post.

Yours faithfully,

O/C

ASSISTANT SECRETARY TO THE RESIDENT.
